Subject: SA0103 Gear motor kit no longer available

Due to some internal components in this kit being no longer available, it is necessary that we no longer supply this gear motor kit.

For future orders it will be necessary to order the individual components, as called out in the specific models parts list. We will also be removing subs from our system that were previously directed to this kit.

Note: It is recommended that the capacitor and protector are replaced any time the gear motor is changed. See SB19-0004 for additional information related to the protector.
