Subject: Alpine 10-Pin Connector Service Replacement Part

Occasionally, Hoshizaki Technical Support receives a request for a replacement connector block or wiring connection for the K1 10-pin connector. No part numbers were assigned to these individual parts since they were integral to the wiring harness.

A complete 10-pin connector replacement assembly is now available. The part number is HS-0104 and can be ordered through your local Hoshizaki distributor.

The connector is provided with 12 inch color coded leads as shown below and is designed for an Alpine control board application. This part is not interchangeable with a "C" control board application.
